ON A ROLL... BUT WHERE TO?

Discover why one of Herne Bay's most famous sporting teams face an uncertain future amid a major overhaul of the town's leisure facilities. FULL STORY - SEE PAGE 4

BY GARETH ARNOLD

MP JULIAN Brazier says he is "horrified" after Home Office chiefs rejected former Kent cricket star Hartley Alleyne's latest bid to remain in the country.

Despite living in the UK for almost 30 years, the ex-West Indies player saw his second attempt for a work permit rejected.

This means Mr Alleyne, who teaches at St Edmund's School in Canterbury, could be deported within 28 days.

The Conservative politician is now calling on immigration minister Liam Byrne to personally intervene and over-rule the latest decision.

He has called for an urgent meeting with the minister and penned a strongly-worded letter outlining his dismay at developments.

Barbados-born Mr Alleyne, 50, who has three children who live in the UK, was originally told he could be slung out of the country in May because he did not hold the relevant qualifications.

He has subsequently achieved the NVQ requested - but still faces deportation.

In his letter to Mr Byrne, Mr Brazier said: "Following our exchange on the residential status of Hartley Alleyne I was horrified to hear that he has been turned down for a work

Tourism at risk from flood threat

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

PRESENTER Nick Crane has warned more must be done to protect low-lying areas of the South East in the face of climate change.

The popular star, who has fronted both Coast and current BBC2 show Great British Journeys, made the comments at a tourism conference last week in Canterbury.

The historian and TV presenter addressed industry representatives from across the region at the one-day event, stressing the importance of a more sustainable approach to tourism, aimed at protecting coastal landscapes for the next generation.

Speaking to yourcanterbury, Mr Crane said: "My own agenda all along through four years of programming has been to introduce people to, and excite them about, visiting places closer to home."

"There are five big airports around London, but they are things of the past. The South East will become the new playground for urbanites in London, and it needs to wake up to its own charms."

"There are many valuable landscapes in the region that are at risk from climate change, such as large, low-lying coastal areas, and whole towns on the coast itself."

Tourism is worth more than £10 billion to the South East, and Mr Crane stressed the importance of the region as a means of persuading people to holiday at home instead of jetting off to far-flung destinations.

He said: "We need to realise that changing your light bulb or making sure the TV is off and not on standby is simply not enough. We need to address the big causes of climate change such as motoring, and heat loss from domestic homes. Industry and Government have their roles to play, but those are the things we could do as consumers."

Mr Crane also warned Canterbury's citizens that maintaining the city's uniqueness was up to them.

He said: "If the Starbucks corporation have seen that the people of Canterbury want more Starbucks, then that's what they will get. It is not for me to say, it is for the people of Canterbury to decide. Some people like chain stores."

"But there is no doubt that from a tourism point of view, the more homogenous a place, the less interesting it becomes."

The Keeping it Real conference in the Cathedral Lodge was hosted by regional tourist board Tourism South East.

Jazz flavour to take on the apple market

MASTERCHEF star Gregg Wallace is visiting Canterbury next week to promote a new type of apple which growers hope will become a customer favourite.

The presenter, who lives in Whitstable, will test the new jazz apple grown at one of the county's largest apple orchards, Mansfields in Chislehurst.

The apple only accounts for one in 50 eaten at the moment but growers hope sales will top £25 million in four years.

Children cook up a storm with freebie

GETTING children into the kitchen is the aim of a Sainsbury's initiative which sees two schools receive free utensils from the city supermarket.

Today, Sturry Primary School and Spires Academy will be presented with a cooking kit containing more than 100 pieces of equipment.

The event marks the supermarket's sixth 'make the difference day' and the launch of the Active Kids Get Cooking challenge.

Historian promotes charms of the county

TOP historian Dr David Starkey is to help Kent Tourism Alliance promote the county on both a national and international level.

The author and television presenter, who recently bought a home near Canterbury, was invited to get involved by Amanda Cottrell, chairwoman of the Kent Tourism Alliance.

From February, the organisation will be known as Visit Kent, to chime with the national tourist body, Visit Britain.

Making sure you can make your mark

YOUR right to vote in the local and general elections could be in jeopardy if you do not return the electoral registration forms the council has warned.

Forms have been sent out to every home so people can check the details and make any necessary changes, before returning the paperwork.

People who have just turned 18 or have recently moved house should make doubly sure they are registered to make their vote count.

INVITATION TO TRAINING PROVIDERS TO JOIN THE CANTERBURY COLLEGE TRAIN TO GAIN CONSORTIUM

The Canterbury College Train to Gain Consortium is inviting submissions from training providers to increase its number of partners contributing to the 07/08 contract. The Consortium will consider new partners able to bring in provision from sectors not already covered and is also looking to expand provision in the following sectors:

i. HSC Care      ii. Customer Service      iii. Team Leader      iv. Business Administration

Prospective partners are asked to submit a brief business case in writing. Written applications (hard copy) must be received by 8 October 2007.

City named as top people's hot spot

Canterbury in posh mag's top 10 list

■ BY NICK AMES

A LUXURY travel magazine has named Canterbury one of the top places in Britain for tourists.

The city came sixth in a list of destinations published in the latest issue of Conde Nast Traveller magazine – part of the New York-based publishing empire which also includes Vogue, GQ, Vanity Fair and Tatler.

Each year the magazine – self-dubbed 'Stylish Guides for Discerning Travellers' – runs the contest to find the best place to visit taking into account such attractions as quality of service, accommodation, restaurants and value for money.

And the city finished sixth – with an 82.79 per cent approval rating; below only London, Manchester, Edinburgh, Glasgow and Durham.

It is the first time the city has ever featured in the list.

City council tourism spokesman Mike

DESTINATION: Our scenic and historic city is increasingly attractive to wealthy holidaymakers

Patterson said: "This magazine has a high socio-economic profile in terms of its readers and is aimed at the top end of the market."

"Because the voting is so unprompted people can nominate any city they want, so it's clear we are now attracting visitors who have money to spend."

"Canterbury's appearance in the list can be attributed to the changing perception of the city as a short-break destination and the continuing investment by both the public and private sector."

The magazine also recognised the city aBode Hotel – opened by top celebrity chef Michael Caines last year – as one of the 138 best new establishments in the world.

A publishing source in the US said: "To be recognised and feted by Conde Nast is the biggest complement in many fields – including travel. The magazines pride themselves on the affluence, style and discerning nature of their readership."

"Prestige brands also know they are dealing with a top range readership. That is why luxury brands such as Chanel, Jaguar, Mercedes and Dolce and Gabbana are among the advertisers."

Formed in 1907, Conde Nast is credited with founding the move across the publishing world for magazines specialising in a particular interest such as travel, food and wine, architecture and lifestyle.

permit, despite having achieved the NVQ which was mooted.

"He has been in this country for 29 years, with a few gaps, and has children who are British citizens here."

The Home Office's decision is based on rules that state a work permit will only be granted if an employer can demonstrate the post requires a NVQ Level 3, HND or Degree qualification.

Despite the fact Mr Alleyne gained an NVQ qualification over the summer, it remains the case his job at St Edmund's School does not require this level of training.

Headteacher, Jeremy Gladwin, said: "Whilst this is a correct application of the rules, it is a great shame common sense has not prevailed given the service Mr Alleyne has given to English cricket."

Mr Alleyne has not been allowed to work at St Edmunds since his first application was turned down in April, although the school has continued to let him stay free of charge.

But now they are no longer allowed to employ him, he will have to move out of his home, and could be deported any time from the beginning of October.

Reward for volunteer crimebuster

MIKE Baker, vice-chairman of Herne Bay's Crime Prevention Panel, was recognised as an unsung hero by the Kent Police Authority last week.

Baker was one of seven winners at the third annual Safer Kent Awards scheme for the efforts of his team who give up hours of their time to support Canterbury police.

He attends crime scenes to advise victims and manages the Crimebuster bus project, which provides a visible presence in high-crime areas around the district.

His team also runs Herne Bay's Teen Planets, a secure nightclub for youngsters.

He said: "I'm really pleased to have won, but it's not just me who gives up so much time. At the end of the day we are one team of volunteers who put in a lot of time and effort."

Seven winners and six runners-up were presented with a certificate, prize, trophy and cheque for a community project of their choice, during the ceremony at Leeds Castle.

Mr Baker said: "The £250 cheque is much appreciated and will go towards helping to pay for the Crimebuster bus."

BBC TV show is blamed for £200 laptop deception

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

POLICE have blamed BBC series The Real Hustle for a scam which netted thieves £200.

The deception took place at the Tesco Metro store in Whitefriars just before 5pm last Monday week.

The con artists approached the victim, referred to in the popular TV show as a 'mark', and offered to sell him an expensive Sony Viao laptop.

The crooks told the man they had been sacked from their jobs, and needed to sell the laptop to help support themselves.

They showed the victim the computer, plus a receipt, and waited while he went to a cash point to withdraw £200.

But when the man got home, he realised the thieves had switched the expensive machine for two bottles of water.

A police spokesman said: "Two men have taken inspiration from a television show to con £200 out of a passer-by."

A similar trick has been featured on the BBC Three series The Real Hustle, a reality show in which three seasoned con artists swindle unknowing members of the public out of their money, before they return their cash and reveal the ruse.

The show covers a wide variety of cons, from card tricks and fixed competitions to dodgy deals and deception.

Defending the programme, a BBC spokesman said: "The Real Hustle exposes popular scams to help viewers avoiding them."

"As Crimestoppers have stated on many occasions, the purpose of the programme is to make people aware of these."

Police are investigating the incident, and warn other shoppers to watch out for the pair.

NEWS IN BRIEFInvestigation boosted
by new witnesses

NEW witnesses have re-invigorated the investigation into the death of a man whose body was found in a stream near the M20.

Sixty-year-old Robert Heskins, of Military Road, Canterbury, was found dead in a stream on August 30, six days after he was admitted to the William Harvey Hospital in Ashford suffering from a head injury.

A post-mortem showed Mr Heskins died from a head injury and immersion in water. An inquest into his death was opened and adjourned in Ashford on September 6.

KCC completes four year
county footpath survey

A four-year survey of the countryside will mean better access for walkers wanting to enjoy the footpaths and views across Kent.

The study – the first of its kind in the UK – was carried out by Kent County Council.

It took in every part of the county's 4,200 miles of public right of way.

The public will soon be able to see the results on KCC's Explore Kent website.

Surveyors used handheld GPS technology to collect the data which identified the exact locations and position of all footpaths.

Lobby county councillor at Herne Bay surgery

COUNTY council member for Herne Bay, David Hurst, is holding a surgery this Saturday.

People are invited to the town's council offices in William Street, between 10am and noon to raise concerns they may have about KCC services with Mr Hurst.

He said: "KCC provides many of the services people receive, and if they have a problem with anything, they can come to me."

"Roads and street lighting are always issues which raise concerns."

Come up with a water saving plan for free butt

FREE water butts are up for grabs from the council if you can come up with an original drought busting idea.

Environmental promotions officer, Helen Bennington, said: "The council has been implementing water saving measures, such as installing self turn off taps and water reduction systems. Now we want to hear whether local residents have any ideas."

Suggestions should be sent to Helen Bennington, Canterbury City Council, Military Road, Canterbury, CT1 1YW, or email helen.bennington@canterbury.gov.uk.

Fewer seats in centre would slash income
Roller hockey
threat if Pier pavilion goes

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

THEY ARE flying the flag for Herne Bay against some of the biggest names in European sport – but the town's roller hockey club say their future could be under threat if council chiefs do not listen to their concerns.

Herne Bay United, who have been drawn against Portuguese giants FC Porto in the sport's equivalent of football's Champions League next month, have spoken out after council chiefs chewed over five proposals for sport provision in the town.

At the centre of the debate is the future of Pier Sports Centre, the club's existing home.

The option receiving the most serious attention is a massive expansion of Herne Bay High School, costing £2.26 million.

But United chiefs say they will be compromised by the move, which at the very least will mean a one-third reduction in seating, and thus a reduction in revenue.

Herne Bay United coach and former England player Phil McVey said: "The problem is whatever is going to be built needs to be equal to, or better than what we already have."

"I work in London, and when I say I live in Herne Bay, people say 'I went roller skating there when I was a kid, or 'I watched roller hockey there once'. It is a part of the town."

"This is where roller hockey started and it's the home of roller hockey in the country and pretty much the world."

Council officers say an eight court hall at the school would allow the club to host international competitions in the town and give the school access to much improved facilities.

Mr McVey said: "If they spend just a little bit more, Herne Bay can host real internationals, not just in roller hockey, but

SKATING THE ISSUE: Herne Bay has been at the centre of the roller hockey scene for more than 30 years in other sports as well."

A council spokesman said: "The plans for Herne Bay High School are not definitive. We have been and will continue to work with representatives of the roller hockey club to ensure as best as possible that the new facilities can accommodate national and international hockey events."

Factors against the move include concern over moving leisure facilities to the outskirts of town, potentially damaging the tourist trade.

So what are the other options?

ONE proposal is the refurbishment of the Pier Sports Centre.

Although this would maintain the necessary space for Herne Bay's roller hockey teams and bowls clubs, it is seen as an expensive and restrictive option by council officers.

The redevelopment would be limited to the size of the current building, with no expansion possible to take into account future demands and extra facilities.

Canterbury council is also worried about the spiraling costs of maintaining the site which is more than 30 years old.

The expansion of Herons Leisure Pool has also been discussed. But, critically, this option does not include a sports hall, and with the demolition of the Pier Sports Centre, the town's all important roller hockey team would be deprived of vital practice space.

Building an entirely new leisure centre incorporating a large sports hall, gym and pool is also being considered, but no suitable site exists in the town. A fifth proposal suggests expanding Herons Leisure pool and extending facilities at Herne Bay High, although the cost of this option is considerable.

The proposals were due to be discussed at a meeting of the Herne Bay Area Member Panel last night. Visit www.yourkenttv.co.uk for views on the plans.

Villages join forces to save rural bus service

THE FIGHT is on to resurrect a vital rural bus service which has left hundreds of villagers stranded.

The Royal Mail axed its popular 'post bus' service earlier this month as a cost-cutting measure. The service, which put three minibuses on the road to ferry residents and post, from 23 villages into Canterbury, was provided by the company, but subsidised by Kent County Council by up to £12,000 a year.

But hopes of using that money to get a new service up and running have been foiled by KCC transport chiefs who say they can no longer afford the money.

Now a coalition of 10 parish councils have teamed up with Canterbury council to bring the service back.

Canterbury councillor Brian Staley said: "The council have saved £33,000 a year now they are no longer subsidising the post bus, but that money could be put towards our scheme.

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

"Many passengers are elderly widows who are most vulnerable, and they are suffering most."

KCC has offered to tax and insure a second-hand minibus which would be handed over to the parishes to use as they saw fit.

But this would require the parishes to provide fuel and find volunteer drivers, and community representatives say the plan does not go far enough.

Cllr Staley said: "What we need is a regular service. If people know a service is regular and reliable, more people will use it, and not just to get from the villages into Canterbury."

"People living in the city could use it to visit the village pubs without having to drive, thus enriching the rural community."

Mr Staley said the cessation of the post bus service had already forced some elderly people out of villages they had grown up in, as it provided their only lifeline to shops and services in Canterbury.

Cllr Staley is collecting a petition to present to KCC demanding they look again at a business plan he has produced for a regular bus service.

He has drawn up routes serving 23 villages around Canterbury which he envisages would be run by two buses, with one full time driver and several part timers.

Adisham parish councillor Jim Colthup said: "We are not just trying to replace the post bus, we are trying to get some form of rural transport service."

Girls' ramble to raise money

ONE thousand costumed pupils and teachers from Simon Langton Girls' Grammar School took part in a sponsored walk through Canterbury last Friday.

The previous year's ramble raised more than £10,000, and this year the school hopes to top that record.

Half of all the money raised will go to the Cathedral Unit at Kent and Canterbury Hospital, in memory of much loved foreign languages teacher Nadine Buttenshaw, who died of cancer in May.

Mrs Buttenshaw praised the exemplary care she received at the unit, and requested that donations were made to help support their continuing work.

The international theme saw a wide variety of interpretations.

Careers education manager Rosemary Jones said: "The girls looked wonderful. There were the typical striped T-shirts and berets, including some of the staff, I might add, as well as Mexicans in sombreros with cacti."

The pupils voted to donate the other half of the money to the Mary Sheridan Centre, a children's health facility in the city.

The 12 km walk followed a path from the school in Old Dover Road through several surrounding villages before returning back to the school grounds.

QUESTION & ANSWER

DAVE FAIRCLOUGH

Q How important do you think football is to the city?

A The demise of Canterbury City in 1999 was a tragic loss as an unbroken record of almost 100 years competitive senior football came to an end. This left Canterbury as the largest metropolitan region in the UK without a senior representative football team. The huge amount of support for our initial open evening and attendances for our first two home league games have demonstrated how important a senior club is to the local community.

Q What is your aim?

A The aim is to provide Canterbury with a club that the great city deserves and make it an asset for the community. Already we have established two senior men's teams, a ladies team and two girls teams, we have three boys youth teams and also a special needs team, not bad for our first season.

We are a registered community interest company which is unique in British football. This means we are a non-profit making organisation that has community objectives at our core.

We have formed a charitable partnership with the Pilgrim's Hospice and will work throughout the season on initiatives to support them. We will also continue to work with Canterbury council and involve ourselves deeply in the community.

Q How has the season got underway?

A I was delighted to come away from Tenterden Town FC with three points recently, the nine goal haul was a real bonus, I wanted a good start to the league campaign and cannot complain with three wins out of three.

Q You've had a great start to the season, what's the secret behind your success?

A I have been impressed by the team spirit and enthusiasm shown by the players to date, most importantly the players show the pride and passion that is required for any player who pulls on a Canterbury City shirt. We faced a tough game on Saturday as our opponents APM Mears also had an unbeaten start and came to Bridge with a 100 per cent record. It feels strange to be saying it really was a six pointer!

• See the sports pages for the result.

Q What is the competition like?

A There are no easy games in the Kent County League and I am just pleased that we have taken our good pre-season from into the more competitive league environment. We are committed to playing attractive, attacking football and the feedback from the many supporters who attend the games and use the club forum, indicates they are enjoying what they see at the moment which is important to me.

Q What are your ambitions for the club?

A The potential at Canterbury City FC is huge and in theory there is no ceiling to how high we can take the first team on the football pyramid.

I believe the club can realistically be playing in the Ryman League in five years if the on pitch and off pitch developments run in parallel. It is vital that Canterbury City FC take up residence in a new ground that will become a Canterbury community football hub as soon as possible.

On the pitch we have a wealth of young football talent in the local community that is available to us, we have the ability in the current squad and amongst our youth teams in the community to progress up the leagues.

I would also like to see the football hub develop so that football is available to everyone in the local community, the hub should be buzzing and used for local football seven days a week as it is a facility for all.

I want to introduce a youth development regime that includes a Canterbury Football Academy so our most talented young players do not have to go to football clubs in London and beyond to develop their skills.

In the short term we have to take things step by step, Just focusing back to this season, promotion from Division 2 East is my aim and anything less will be a huge disappointment.

Canterbury City boss Dave Fairclough talks to Gareth Arnold about the rebirth of the city's football team after seven years without a senior club and what his main aims are for the future

Groups set for meeting over harbour plans

QUAY DECISION: Plans to redevelop Whitstable Harbour have not gone down well with residents

■ BY CHRIS JAMES

THE NEXT stage in the saga of the controversial redevelopment plans for Whitstable Harbour takes place on Monday.

Organisations in the town are being invited to an informal meeting of the Harbour Board at Whitstable Castle.

There, they will hear views and comments on the proposed South Quay redevelopment. A maximum of two representatives from each town organisation and harbour campaign groups can attend.

Local residents have been up in arms over the plans put forward for the site, which the Harbour Board insist are vital for the long-term future of the quay.

It says maintaining the harbour in its current state will cost £10 million over the next 25 years and that redevelopment is a necessity, not an option.

But the three plans put forward have not gone down well and a 10,000-strong petition opposing them was handed into Canterbury council earlier this month.

Spearheading the push for throwing out the plans is the Whitstable Harbour Watch group, whose poster campaign appears in the windows of hundreds of homes across the town.

The schemes so far put forward include plans to build a supermarket, an aquarium or a pub, but council chiefs continue to insist that all of these options can still return to the drawing board.

Monday's meeting will be held at the Mallandain Room at Whitstable Castle, from 3pm.

To find out how to attend, contact committee administrator Rosemary Burton on 01227 862009 or rosemary.burton@canterbury.gov.uk as soon as possible.

Stolen church bell part of growing crime trend

THE RECENT theft of a 70-year-old bell in Whitstable is part of an increasing number of metal thefts from churches across the UK which have led to more than £3.5 million of insurance claims.

The Sachring bell was taken from St Peter's Church earlier this month.

Police say the rise in metal prices is behind a spate of similar thefts up and down the country, with the stolen goods shipped out to countries such as India and China where demand for the material is at its highest.

A spokesman for Ecclesiastical Insurance, which covers the majority of Church of England buildings, reported recently more than 300 such thefts in August alone – and more than 1,000 so far this year.

A spokesman said: "We saw a similar spike in claims in the 1970s when metal prices reached a high.

"Because they are reaching another high at the moment we are seeing a corresponding rise in thefts, so the local parish church is becoming a victim of the world-wide demand for metals."

Spurs founder remembered

A CEREMONY this week gave deserved recognition to the founder of Tottenham Hotspur who lies in a pauper's grave in Dover.

The Rev John Ripsher founded the Premiership club in order to get the youngsters of 19th century London off the streets.

Rev Ripsher lost his sight and died in a workhouse 100 years ago this month and his remains are buried in St Mary's Cemetery.

Spurs' executive director, Paul Barber, and Steve Ripsher, a descendant, were all present.

Also there were the living relatives of ex-Spurs star Walter Tull – the first professional black outfield player to play in Britain and who died while serving as an officer in World War One.

■ BY NICK AMES

Mr Barber said: "It's a fascinating story; poetic and sad. There is huge respect here for what John did in those early years – not just founding the club, but keeping it going."

The Rev Ripsher's tale was unearthed by Peter Lupson, whose discovery that Everton were formed by boys in the bible class at St Domingo's Methodist Chapel set him on an 11-year search for the religious roots of the game.

Rev Ripsher was a bible teacher at All Hallows Church in Tottenham and the club's first president

Mr Lupson said: "He gripped my imagination. He stood by those boys, who had continually let him down. If he had not stuck by those lads there would be no club today."

Spurs executive Paul Barber said: "It is strangely fitting because it is our 125th birthday match next week, against Aston Villa."

Mr Lupson discovered that 12 of the 39 clubs that have played in the Premiership share a church background.

Mr Lupson said: "What grieves me – having spent so long researching these people that I almost feel I know them – is the disrepair so many of the graves had fallen into."

"I want to see them restored to some level of dignity, and the clubs agree wholeheartedly."

MEMORIAL: Descendants of Rev John Ripsher gather at Dover cemetery

Two year old is youngest to receive pacemaker

TODDLER Amber Howe is set to live a normal life just three months after a heart blockage almost killed her.

The two-year-old from Sittingbourne became the second youngest person in the UK ever fitted with a pacemaker after she stopped breathing while asleep.

Within hours she was undergoing surgery at a top London hospital where surgeons inserted the device. This week docs have told her mum Ali the op was a total success and little Amber will be able to lead a normal life.

Muslims call for new faith school in county

MUSLIM community leaders are calling for a state funded Islamic school to be set up for serve the county.

Anwar Khan of the Kent Muslim Welfare Association, said hundreds of children were being deprived of an education in a specialist faith school. Kent County Council have agreed to heed the call and offered help.

Mr Khan, who is attached to Jamia Mosque in Gillingham, said about 100 children attended out of school classes there to learn about the faith.

Olympics blamed for arts funding struggle

LOTTERY money being diverted into the London 2012 Olympic Games is stifling opportunities for the arts in Ashford.

In the week a campaign was launched to push for a theatre in the town, council chiefs said although a venue is in long-term plans, hopes of landing crucial funds are struggling.

Christopher Dixon, for Ashford council said: "At the moment the general climate for funding the arts is difficult because so much money is being redirected to the Olympics."

"We are addressing the problem."

FUTURISTIC: A pod in the new Liquid club

Venue set to lead club scene

THE clubbing scene in Maidstone is set to be transformed when Ikon reopens in November following a £3 million upgrade.

The new 1,800 capacity club will be relaunched as Liquid and Envy.

General manager Julian Holyoake said: "We plan to provide the ultimate 'must visit' clubbing experience. Our unique touches will really set us apart from our competition."

The Lockmeadow leisure complex in Barker Road will be split into two rooms with a number of party booths overlooking the dance floor.

These futuristic pods will be used as exclusive VIP rooms when the club opens on November 2.

Clubbers attending the Liquid area will also get to experience the latest sound and lighting systems as club chiefs look to attract customers from across the county.

Envy, the second room in the venue, is aimed to accommodate the over 23's with a more chilled atmosphere, private booths and table service.

The venue will also incorporate a brand new smoking terrace on the roof overlooking Barker Road. Liquid and Envy will be open Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Are you in balance?

Many people think if they eat well and exercise regularly, they are healthy. If you think that is enough, you need to read on...

Everyone knows of someone who looked well, ate well and exercised, and were struck down by a heart attack or diagnosed with cancer.

Then some wise guy tells them it must have been in their genes or they had bad DNA! What you need to know is: that is the case in only 2% of cases. In 98% of us, we are born with the ability to live with outrageous health and wellness.

What you also need to know is that your spine and nervous system are at the core of your health. Your brain, spinal cord and all the nerves in your body control all the functions that keep you well.

The bone that surrounds this intricate system is called the spine and unfortunately, if placed under some kind of stress, it can become misaligned.

If a misalignment occurs, it causes interference to the nervous system and causes poor function somewhere in your body and results in you suffering from pain and sickness.

Most people have used the 'old sickness system' of popping pills to take the symptom away. But we have learnt over time that applying 'band-aid' treatment and 'patch-up' never corrects the cause of the problem.

The public have learnt through the mistakes of others. Taking pills can lead to other problems worse than the original one! That is why people are now moving away from their traditional old fashioned doctor to use a modern trained wellness doctor. Yes, a health practitioner who is more interested in your long term health and not the quick fix and send you home with a packet of pills.

The only way to get well and stay well is correct the cause. If your posture is out of balance, then your spine is more than likely misaligned. This causes nerve interference inside your body, and ultimately results in dis-ease. The principle for health is better stated and known as "Posture is the window to your spine and your health".

So, what can you do to check if you and your family are in balance or not?

When you look at a person from the front, their spine should be straight. The head, shoulders, hips, and feet should be lined up. When you look at a person from the side, the ears should be back over the shoulders and the shoulders should be back over the pelvis.

Abnormal posture and spinal problems are present if the following are positive:

- Their head is visibly tilted, shifted, or rotated in one direction
- Their head is juttied out in front of their chest and shoulders (forward-head syndrome)
- One hip is higher than the other, turned in one direction, or shifted to one side
- One shoulder is higher than the other, turned in one direction, or their whole upper body is shifted to one side.

If you know someone who has not had their spine checked by a modern trained Wellness Doctor, better known as a Spinal Specialist, it is one of the most important tests they could have to prevent pain and suffering in the future.

Enjoy a special eerie evening

THE spookiest night of the year is fast approaching, so when the ghosts and ghouls come out to play, be prepared to be scared silly.

This Halloween, Anchor iScream Real Dairy Cream is teaming up with your new local paper to offer five lucky kids a blinding Halloween bash.

You'll have everything you need to throw your little monster and seven fellow fiends a ghoulish get-together, including eerie invites, devilish decorations, a spine-chilling skeleton straight from the closet, some frightening fangs, a monstrous mask and some terrific treat bags, not to mention a limited edition Anchor iScream kid's apron for some freaky fun with Mum in the kitchen. Just try not to scream, or should that be iScream?!

In the meantime, why not celebrate Halloween by conjuring up some devilishly delicious desserts and sweet treats? The limited edition Anchor iScream has been created just for Halloween.

Fun and easy to use, it even comes in a spooky can to make sure that the ghosts and ghouls come straight to your table this October. And if you're stuck for inspiration, why not visit www.anchorsquirrymoments.co.uk for fun recipes to try out, plus some super scary tips on how to make this Halloween a spooky night you'll never forget? You'll also be able to keep your little monsters entertained with ghoulishly good games and creepy things to craft – fridge monsters, a ghost train, scary masks and much more. Who needs trick or treating when you can stay in and enjoy all the treats with Anchor iScream?

To enter, simply answer the question below and send your entry on a postcard along with your e-mail address (if applicable), name, address, and daytime telephone number to Anchor iScream comp, KOS Media, Apple Barn, Smeeth, Ashford, Kent, TN25 6SR.

Closing date is October 12, 2007.

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in and around Canterbury...

Why we cannot afford to turn our backs on homeless

THE PLIGHT of the homeless on the streets of Canterbury raised in Yourcanterbury last week was one which fired much discussion in my local pub.

The article, which claimed we were suffering 'compassion fatigue' when it came to handling their plight, sparked furious debate on both sides of the argument.

Of particular interest was the issue of walking past a homeless person being attacked.

The truth, as ever with these things, is surely not so black and white.

Personally, I'm not sure if I've ever been hassled to the point of wanting to deck a homeless person. Occasionally they stagger into me, but violence never enters my mind.

However, I've certainly seen an awful lot of people who probably live in new-build homes and drive BMWs who could do with having some sense and manners beaten into them while a crowd cheers on their assailant.

And therein lies the rub.

The reality is whether it's a homeless person getting attacked, or two men suited-and-booted going at one another, we are all now adjusted to just walk on by.

The media constantly tells us not to get involved as they report on another 'have-a-go-hero' getting a knife in the ribs as a thank you for intervening in a fight.

And the not-in-my-backyard mentality now seems to pervade everything and everyone. As long as it's not us getting the beating, the vast majority of us would prefer to walk on by.

But of course the plight of the homeless is an emotive one.

None of us want to see people suffering, but then none of us want to feel a little worried when we walk through one of the city's underpasses while praying that the homeless person begging in it doesn't suddenly turn nasty.

Again, that's not necessarily the right way to think (does anyone genuinely know someone who has been attacked by someone in a subway apart from the ubiquitous 'friend-of-a-friend-of-a-friend?'), but that is life and that is the stereotype which now pervades all our thinking.

The truth is that it is surely only the harsh-hearted who actually genuinely bear the homeless any malice.

We can never stop people falling on hard times. We can never rid our streets of people who for whatever reason find themselves out of a job, out of a house, and out of luck.

If the homeless genuinely bother you that much just cross the road. But don't then complain when no-one comes to your aid should you need it.

TALK TIME

PAUL DONOVAN

Fireman Paul Donovan discusses one of the more dramatic incidents he attended – and the key issues affecting him in Canterbury

Tell us a little about yourself

I'm 29-years-old and have been a fireman in Canterbury for nine years now. I've been commended a couple of times, which is nice, and along the way there have been plenty of memorable incidents.

Perhaps the one that sticks out in my memory the most took place about three or four years ago. We had an incident where a woman set herself alight. She covered herself in petrol and flicked a lighter, and she just went up in flames. I was the first on the scene, and was able to put her out with a fire blanket. I dived on top of her, and by rolling around was able to put out the flames.

She was taken to East Grinstead, and recovered after about six months. She even came to the station and gave me a hug.

What's the big issue in Canterbury right now?

I'm 29 now, and I still don't own my own property. That's quite frustrating, as I've been serving the community for nine years, and as a single man, I can't afford to live in it. I know everybody is in the same boat, but it does get to me.

I read with interest the story on the front of Yourcanterbury last week and very much shared the views of those quoted in the article.

I often spend long shifts working in and around the city but then rather than a quick five minute stroll home, I have a 30-minute drive to get home. It is tiring.

I think Canterbury is a great city and I'm proud to serve it. Just that I'd like to be able to afford to live and work here.

YOUR LETTERS

Whitstable seafront is a real let-down

IS THERE any good reason why the area in the photo – on Whitstable seafront – cannot be paved over and one or two proper flower containers be sited?

I feel this area, overgrown with weeds, is a let-down to an otherwise pretty site.

AR Dewar, Seasalter

Help save your local TV news coverage

AS your readers may be aware, ITV has announced plans to change its regional news coverage and scrap its three editions of Meridian Tonight, replacing them with one programme covering an area from Southend in Essex to Weymouth in Dorset.

We believe this will provide viewers with a much poorer service, ending the dedicated, award-winning, programme for Kent and Sussex.

We would ask any readers who share this view to express their opinion to their local MP and to the broadcasting regulator Ofcom.

The regulator can be contacted by email at: PSBReview@ofcom.org.uk.

As part of the complement of media outlets in Kent, like the

UPLOAD YOUR VIDEOS

OUR new online, on-demand, broadband TV service – www.yourkenttv.co.uk – is now fully launched, allowing YOU to upload your videos.

Soft launched earlier this month, the service is now fully operational with hundreds of clips already online and ready for you to view, for free, on your PC.

With dedicated channels for sport, business, property, motors and leisure, there is also a community channel for you to upload your clips and access a potentially limitless audience.

From local bands to fetes, birthday parties to strolls around your local town or village, the channel is designed for you.

What's more, once you've seen the clips you can add your comments too – and rate them.

From the site, you can also access the newly-launched Kent County Council-backed KentTV service, which launched on Friday.

It is produced by Ten Alps – the production company of Live Aid hero Bob Geldof.

papers in the KoS Media Group (publishers of Yourcanterbury), we believe the public in our area currently receives a first-class service but this is one which will be damaged if these plans go ahead.

Ofcom claims to place great weight on the opinions of the public it is meant to serve, and we believe that the views of your readers can help stop this proposal.

Cricket season was still a wash out

I KNOW Graham Ford and Rob Kent at Kent Cricket Club all seem very pleased with themselves for their efforts this season, but once again it seemed to be much ado about nothing.

They won the Twenty20 Cup (which for most clubs was completely washed out so let's not get too carried away) but once again performed miserably in the County Championship.

I remain unconvinced the frequently moody Key is the right man to lead the lads.

Nick O'Brien
Canterbury

Housing scheme is not playing fair

WHAT right do Canterbury council have to provide affordable housing only to a select group of so-called "key workers" out of money taxed from all ratepayers?

People in the private sector not only earn less on average, than the average fireman's £26,500, and many would love to earn the police starting salary of £25,454 (after 32 weeks). They would also love to get early retirement, indexed final salary pensions, plus the sick benefits fireman and policemen receive. As for the job being dangerous, neither come anywhere near the top ten of dangerous jobs in the country.

Health & Safety Executive for 1976-1995.

Teachers, after a few years are on the fireman's salary of £26,500, their pay structure then takes them up a lot higher for just attending school year after year. They also benefit from the usual civil servant perk; early retirement for stress. Amazing how many teachers suffer from stress and retire early on full pension.

Without factory workers, van drivers, shop workers to make or deliver goods, teachers would have no blackboards, the fireman no hoses, and the police wouldn't have all those forms to fill in, and heaven forbid, might have to actually go out on the street and catch villains.

The very people who really do need the help, and really on low salaries, are forced to pay for a two-tier society through their rates, and are now told to stand back to let overpaid, under-worked civil servants get affordable housing, while they are left on their own to struggle to get on the housing ladder.

It's time Canterbury council started to play fair with all rate payers, we are all key workers not just those on the government payroll.

Richard Munday
Herne Bay, via email

The homeless are human not animals

I AM pleased the Scrine Foundation have raised the issues of the way the homeless on the streets of the city appear to be falling off the scale.

Some of the attitudes I hear and see from people about these poor unfortunates, defies belief. They are still people and as such we should treat them so – and not like animals.

Terry Dyer
Via email

It's not compassion, it's disgust

IN response to your article in last week's Yourcanterbury and on your website, www.yourcanterbury.co.uk, concerning so-called 'compassion fatigue' towards the homeless I would like to make the following comments.

I have lived in Canterbury most of my life and for the last 10 years in Sun Street which is right in the city centre.

While I agree there may be many homeless people who benefit from help, the ones I see EVERY day are the usual grubby suspects.

They are begging, drunk, unconscious or drugged up at the best tourist trail spots for the best cash income.

Even though begging is against the law and carries a maximum fine of £1,000 it doesn't stop them as the boys in blue just ignore them.

I assume they are also claiming benefits while begging which is no different to other unemployment benefit recipients working, but for some reason they get away with it. If you want to increase sympathy for the genuinely needy homeless then the Scrine Foundation should concentrate on helping the Class-A drug-using beggars away from the tourist spots.

We don't have compassion fatigue, the 'homeless' that we see are a total nuisance that prompt feelings of disgust not sympathy.

Jon Gardner
Via email

There's only so much money to give

JUST what is the Scrine Foundation on about? This city does not have 'compassion fatigue' when it comes to the homeless at all.

We have all given money to them over the years, yet far from any of them taking their cash hand-outs and doing something useful with them, they remain there day-in, day-out.

There is only so much we can do, so much money we can give.

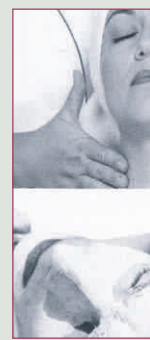

Jane O'Connor

Lee's having the last laugh

Ricky Gervais is a huge fan, but his mum prefers Tom O'Connor – so just how funny is Stewart Lee?

ANYONE who has ever enjoyed cutting-edge comedy will be familiar with Stewart Lee's work, even if they don't recognise his face.

His many writing credits include Radio 4's On The Hour, which later became the groundbreaking TV series The Day Today and launched the careers of, among others, Steve Coogan.

He acted as script editor for Harry Hill's first television programme, wrote episodes for Al Murray the Pub Landlord and this year co-scripted a critically acclaimed play with Johnny Vegas.

With a new stand-up tour called 41st Best Stand-Up Ever! – a homage to his ranking in a Channel 4 poll – audiences might be expecting a mediocre talent.

One of the poster quotes describes him as "the worst stand-up I have ever seen", but industry guru Ricky Gervais claims Lee is "the funniest, most cliché-free comedian on the circuit".

The unusual choice of tour name has proved a useful theme for the show, as Lee discusses our roles in life and how we are viewed by our families.

"My mother thinks I'm wasting my life in comedy," he revealed. "Her favourite comedian is Tom O'Connor and she keeps telling me one of his 'proper' jokes about a sardine. I got half an hour's worth of material out of that joke."

In the mid-90s, Lee and comedy partner Richard Herring enjoyed a spell as student heroes with BBC2 series Fist of Fun and This Morning With Richard Not Judy. Now 39, Lee is slightly bemused by the apparent nostalgia for their surreal old shows.

"When we started out as a double act, the viewing figures weren't great and nobody came to our live shows," he said. "So it was strange to realise that people viewed us in that fond way. Now people who liked us back then bring their kids to my show. But the growth of the internet means people are discovering them again and talking about new comedies."

Lee's first brush with major mainstream success was to become one of the most painful episodes in his career, when he was asked to direct and contribute to the hugely controversial stage show Jerry Springer: The Opera in 2001.

When it ran at London's National Theatre for four months in 2003, Lee described that period as "the highlight of my life".

But after a four-year run in theatres and a good deal of critical acclaim, the opera attracted the attention of Christian Right groups and the British National Party. The massive protests and media debate that followed effectively derailed the production, leaving Lee disillusioned with mainstream theatre.

Also a novelist and a rock music critic for the Sunday Times, Lee is dedicated to providing alternative entertainment and escaping "the squares". If anything good came out of his Jerry Springer experience, he claimed, it was the chance to kill off the show while it was still worth watching.

He said: "Most things do become worse with popularity. When I was a kid, indie music and alternative comedy was just for the weirdos, but now you get football fans going to comedy gigs and listening to Oasis."

"Now I think what's left for all the misfits? I left my last management company because they were trying to get me a late-night ITV slot, as if that was the logical end point for my career. But I didn't want that."

"I would like more money, though, so that's why I'm writing the next series of My Family. That's a joke, by the way."

• Stewart Lee is appearing at the Gulbenkian Theatre, Canterbury, at 7.45pm on Friday, October 5. Tickets cost £14/£12. To book, you can phone 01227 769075, or visit www.gulbenkiantheatre.co.uk.

JACQUI McSHEE
Friday, September 28
Gulbenkian Theatre, Canterbury

THE unique voice of Jacqui McShee will be conjuring some magic when she visits the Gulbenkian with legendary band Pentangle.

Ever since the band expanded the frontiers of folk music in the 1960s, it has continued to make ground-breaking music and earned a Lifetime Achievement Award at this year's BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards. In the summer, Sanctuary Records released a four-CD box set covering the band's 40-year career and the current line-up is due to feature in a new DVD to be released on the Park Records label.

The line-up has changed over the years, though Jacqui's unique voice has always remained constant. She is now joined by Gerry Conway on drums and percussion, Spencer Cozens on keyboards, bassist Alan Thompson and Gary Foot on saxophone and flute.

Pentangle's style has been labelled 'jazz folk', but the band's wide-ranging repertoire should appeal to most musical tastes.

Up-and-coming singer/songwriter Ella Edmondson – daughter of comedians Ade Edmondson and Jennifer Saunders – will be opening the concert.

The gig starts at 7.45pm and tickets cost £14. To book, call 01227 769075 or visit the website at www.gulbenkiantheatre.com.

MUSIC THERAPY DAY

Saturday, September 29, Orange Street Music Club, Canterbury

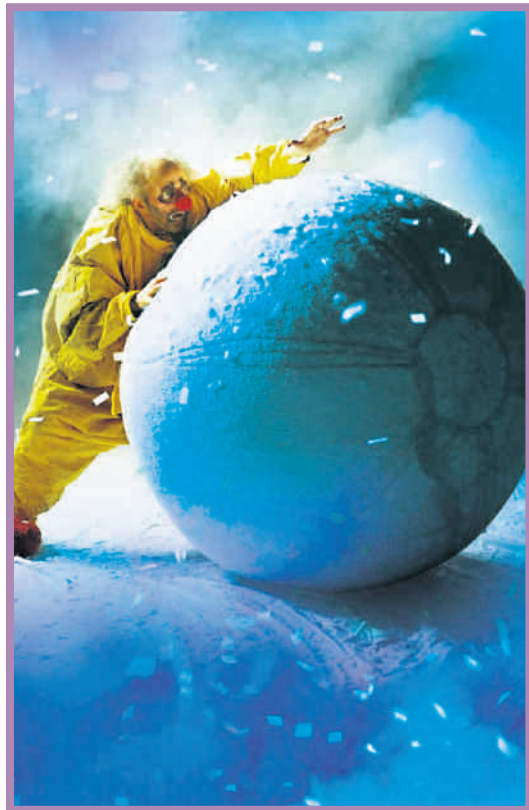

THE healing power of music will be celebrated during a fundraising day of activities and performance in Canterbury this weekend.

Proceeds from the day will help buy instruments for the Kasra Boutorabi Centre for Music Therapy, where therapists work privately with local adults and children to address a variety of mental, emotional, sensory and learning difficulties.

Daytime activities will be free of charge, with the aim of highlighting the work of music therapists. At 1pm children can take part in music workshops, followed by a question and answer session about the practise at 3pm. There will be general music workshops from 4-5pm.

An eclectic mix of top local bands will be performing from 8pm, including alternative country and folk duo Grabham Spink (pictured). Tickets for the concert cost £4 on the door. To find out more about the day, visit the club's website at www.orangestreetmusic.com.

SLAVA SNOWSHOW

Tuesday, October 16 to Saturday, October 20
Marlowe Theatre, Canterbury

IT WILL be snowing in October when the internationally acclaimed Slava Snowshow comes to the city. Audiences will be taken on a spectacular journey as the ensemble of clowns use water, dry ice and bubbles to create stunning images of a winter wonderland.

Witness a bed turning into a boat and a cobweb enveloping the audience before the hilarious and poignant show builds to its breathtaking finale.

Created by Russian clown Slava, the global phenomenon has won the Time Out, Olivier and Drama Desk awards for Unique Theatrical Experience. Packed with wonder, the Slava Snowshow promises a fantastic evening of laughter and beautiful effects.

The production is touring the UK for just nine weeks. Performances start at 7.30pm, with 2.30pm matinees on Thursday and Saturday. Tickets cost from £14 to £28.50, concessions available. To book, call the box office on 01227 787787 or visit the website at www.marlowetheatre.com.

ON GENERAL RELEASE

A MIGHTY HEART (15)

GEORGE Bush's war on terror will ultimately be won or lost in the media. In their pursuit of these stories, journalists risk their lives to expose the shocking truth about the conflict. In 2002, the kidnapping and subsequent beheading of Wall Street Journal reporter Daniel Pearl in Pakistan shocked the world. This film is a harrowing account taken from his wife Mariane's memoirs. Released last Friday.

MICHAEL CLAYTON (15)

MICHAEL Clayton (George Clooney) is an in-house 'fixer' at one of the largest corporate law firms in New York. Clayton, a former prosecutor from a family of cops, takes care of the firm's dirtiest work. He cleans up clients' messes, handling anything from hit and runs to shoplifting wives and crooked politicians. Released, Friday, September 28.

EVENING (12A)

SOME of the finest actresses working today join forces for Lajos Koltai's saccharine drama, based on the popular novel by Susan Minot. In the opening scenes, Vanessa Redgrave shares the screen with her real-life daughter Natasha Richardson and the luminous Toni Collette and Eileen Atkins. Released last Friday.

Journey into the unknown

■ BY ROBIN WALKER

KURT RUSSELL has been working as an actor in Hollywood since he was a child in the 60s, but he's about as different as can be from the typical Tinseltown thespian.

For one, he is a card-carrying member of the National Rifle Association and an admitted Republican, something a lot of similar-minded stars have chosen to keep under wraps in the liberal world of showbiz.

"There were instances where people would call me up and say 'This director was afraid of working with you because of your politics,'" said the 56-year-old, who dubs himself a libertarian. "That started to change about 10 years ago," he continued. "Writers stopped trying to turn me into a wooden Republican along the lines they were doing to Charlton Heston. Now I can go to a party and not feel so outcast."

He is also unafraid to admit that acting is one of the easier professions and something that has got him into trouble with those who prefer to play the 'artiste'.

"To go on about acting as art is ridiculous," he said. "You don't have to be gifted just to hit a mark and say a line. As far as I'm concerned that's 90 per cent of the job. Anyone who finds acting difficult just shouldn't be doing it."

Indeed, the reluctant professional does make his latest role look easy, playing a psychotic driver called Stuntman Mike in Quentin Tarantino's new film, Death Proof.

A heartless but charismatic villain, Mike cajoles young women into his specially-adapted car for a journey that normally ends in tragedy.

"I just took one word and ran with it – coward," said Kurt of his approach to the character. "This is a guy who kills women. I think it's the core of all these psycho-killer characters, especially this one."

VIEW THIS PREVIEW

yourkenttv.co.uk

The film, a blend of slasher flick and car chase action, sees Mike getting more and more deranged.

"He's not one character all the way through. He's got issues with pain," said Russell.

"I said to Quentin 'Why don't we do something different here at the end? Why don't we really go with this word 'coward'? So we went all the way down that road," he said.

It's certainly a return to the scarier side of Kurt's portfolio, the veteran screen star having cornered the market in horror as a younger man in films including The Thing and Escape From New York.

And in a way, Death Proof is a homage to the films of Russell's past. It was originally conceived as a double feature from Tarantino and director Robert Rodriguez, called Grindhouse,

KILLING TIME: Kurt Russell plays Stuntman Mike, a psychotic driver in Tarantino's new film Death Proof and both are apparently fans.

"To be part of, in a weird way, the process of their love affair with movies was a special feeling," said Russell.

Most important to the actor was creating a really memorable screen baddie. "I've never actually seen one of these characters at the end of a movie completely fall apart. It's like when you hammer your finger – you have an idea what it will feel like, but when you actually do it it's way worse than you thought!" he said.

Renowned for his on-screen stunts, Kurt shows no signs of wanting to scale down the action, and does a lot of the incredible driving in the movie himself.

"The problem is you're in the wrong lane doing 100mph," said Russell.

"You have to trust that a coyote won't run into the road or another car slip by one of the roads they've told you are shut off. To put that out of your head and play the character while you're doing it, that's what you get paid to do."

• Death Proof, directed by Quentin Tarantino, was released last Friday.

Let the Oriana take the strain

■ BY JEREMY GATES

WHEN Atlantic breezes nudged up to Force Seven, and Oriana's captain gently applied his accelerator, the P&O cruise ship devised such a beguiling roll that the chairs in the library lounge became positively hypnotic.

Perhaps Nelson's men felt the same in their hammocks. Ongoing research among my fellow passengers found hardly any of us could hold a book or magazine for more than 10 minutes, before zizzing gently off to the Land of Nod.

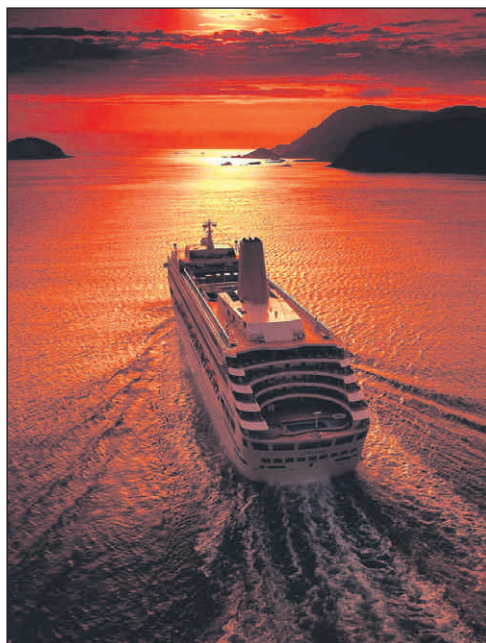

The 70,000-tonne Oriana took over from Canberra as the new mainstay of P&O's fleet back in 1995, when few realised a new boom in cruising lay just around the corner.

Since then the new generation of superliners has taken over, some twice Oriana's size and even bigger. Plenty have become giant floating hotels or shopping malls.

After a major upgrade last autumn Oriana, to her great credit, continues to set her own style: she's Middle England at sea, when so many other ships adopt the brasher approach of the US/Caribbean cruise market.

Although Oriana carried a full complement of 1,800 passengers on our trip, we ordered breakfast in our room – at no extra charge – to watch the sun coming up over the Atlantic breakers entirely alone.

There are still only a handful of shops on board, the cricket bats signed by Don Bradman and Colin Cowdrey are still proudly on show in the Lord's Tavern bar, and a pre-breakfast stroll on the promenade deck brings cheerful smiles of greeting from early retirees sporting the latest leisure gear.

In line with the latest fashion, of course,

Oriana will serve up meals around the clock in various bars on the lido deck. But why forgo the pleasant evening ritual of dressing to a modestly respectable level for either first or second sitting of dinner in the formal restaurants?

We thought the quality of the food this time was even better than on our first visit.

Before each stop, there's a duty-free sale of 'take ashore' items – from spirits to cigarettes – to boost takings.

With so many things to do on board, ports of call passed in something of a blur – and few passengers seemed bothered about where they went anyway.

The city of Corunna is a nicer corner of northern Spain than it looks at first sight. Santa Cruz, on the northern shore of Tenerife, is being impressively revamped to give this beleaguered island a new, upmarket image.

Lanzarote I can't recall with pleasure, because I ended up amid the boozy bars of Puerto del Carmen, but Madeira is the perfect pitstop on any voyage. That first glimpse of Funchal climbing endlessly up a steep hillside as you pull back the curtains can't fail to take the breath away.

When we climbed the elegant flower gardens of Funchal to look down on the Oriana, in harbour, bedecked in flags from stem to stern, I realised how misguided is the 'expert' who wrote that the QE2 is the last ship to actually look like a cruise ship.

Oriana is a stunner too. If you can get on board for £100 per person per day, with all meals and entertainment provided and occasional ice creams thrown in for free, the opportunity shouldn't be missed.

25 Shots with a qualified instructor for only £10 9.30 - 12 • No appointment necessary

Whether you are looking for a group activity with a distinctive venue or simply want somewhere to celebrate a special occasion, Greenfields Shooting Ground is the ideal choice.

The Greenfields clubhouse is a perfect venue for birthdays, wedding receptions, anniversaries or any other events that require a sizeable venue with a fully licensed bar in an attractive location. You don't have to shoot to book it!

The clubhouse itself is a distinctive Norwegian-style wooden shooting lodge, which commands sweeping views over the surrounding countryside. It has a large deck for alfresco dining or an outdoor drink in the summer.

The lodge makes a pleasant and convivial place in which to relax and socialise with your guests at any time of the year.

We are able to provide for your catering needs, from cold buffets to barbecues.

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 - Feb 19)

EXPANDING your horizons will be easier than usual, over the next four weeks. Don't be surprised if you make friends with somebody influential as a result of your activities. On a personal note an admirer could become relentless in their pursuit of you. Signing a contract is favoured this week, as is sealing a deal with a neighbour or relative.

TAURUS (Apr 21 - May 21)

THERE'S never been a better time to launch a job search or exercise programme. If you're happy with your current employer, you may want to negotiate a better package or added perks. Dealings with a bureaucratic institution could finally be wrapped up, giving you the green light to get your plans up and running.

LEO (July 24 - Aug 23)

THE next four weeks promise to be a busy time. It's vital you keep on top of phone calls, emails, and text messages or an important deal could fall through the cracks. If you've already got a partner, arrange a fun mini break for you both. Special recognition could be given to you soon, opening the door to a whole new set of career options.

SCORPIO (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

YOU'LL be keeping a low profile between now and late October. It's easy to negotiate a great financial deal from behind the scenes. If you've been interviewing for jobs, you could get a solid offer by the end of the week. Having this position makes it easier to assert your ideas with confidence. Pursue a course of study between now and the end of the year.

PISCES (Feb 20 - Mar 20)

GETTING closer to the one you love may be your first order of business, but don't let personal issues stop you attending to financial matters. You may also want to nudge your older relatives into making similar arrangements. Wrap up any ongoing salary negotiations if you can this week for your chances of earning more money will be strong.

GEMINI (May 22 - Jun 22)

THIS week begins the most romantic phase of the year for you. If you're single, be sure to hit as many social gatherings as possible. If you already have a partner, arrange a trip for you and your amour. Your connection with a large organisation could come to an end allowing you to shift your focus to increasing your income between now and December.

VIRGO (Aug 24 - Sep 23)

THIS week brings an opportunity to make money by doing something you love. Don't be afraid to send your CV to an employer that has always interested you. If you're happy with your current post, ask the boss if you can work from home. A decision regarding an insurance payment, tax refund, or inheritance could be made in your favour.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23 - Dec 21)

YOUR social life sparkles over the next four weeks. This is a wonderful time to make new business and romantic contacts. Your powerful personality makes a good impression on a group of intellectuals. A love affair could fill you with anticipation for a happy future. Don't be surprised if you find yourself spending quiet evenings with your beloved.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

YOU'RE very decisive when it comes to romance and now you're sure you want to move forward with a blossoming affair. This talk could prompt you to embark on an exciting journey. Finishing a personal project gives you a terrific burst of energy. Household matters will take up the lion's share of your attention from now until the end of the year.

CANCER (Jun 23 - Jul 23)

THE month ahead gives you a chance to attend to domestic matters. A pressing career matter is concluded helping you make changes to your workplace with a well-worded proposal. Studies related to religion or culture could take on an increased importance between now and October. Be aggressive about your desires until the end of the year.

LIBRA (Sep 24 - Oct 23)

YOU'LL be coming into your own this week. Don't let anybody dictate the terms of a deal to you. By communicating your needs with power and passion, you'll get everything you want. A close relationship could undergo a profound change as a result of this sting. Your partner is really turned on by the new you.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 - Jan 20)

YOU can make impressive progress up the career ladder in the coming months. Don't be afraid to take the reins of power if your boss has to step down for a while. If someone offers you a tough job, accept the challenge willingly. This week is ideal for closing on a house or resolving a family conflict. Give a loved one your unconditional support.

When this Belle rings Billie comes a calling

■ BY ANDY WELCH

WHEN the name Billie Piper comes up in conversation, one of two images tend to spring to mind for most people.

Either as a teen popstar or as Rose Tyler in the resurrected and hugely successful Doctor Who.

From this week she will add a third public face, and this one is very grown up.

She appears in Secret Diary Of A Call-Girl, in which she plays prostitute Belle de Jour – a true story adapted for the new ITV2 series.

'Belle' – her real identity has never been revealed – worked as a high-class escort in London for years, before detailing her exploits in a famous online blog and later in two books, The Intimate Adventures Of A London Call-Girl and The Further Adventures Of A London Call-Girl.

"It's intimate," said Billie of the eight-part series. "Really intimate. I'm really scared, if I'm honest. Well, just... I'm quite nervous, you know, because of the nature of the show."

"I hope people think it's been handled well and that at times it makes people laugh and that people can get over the initial shock factor of the piece."

It may indeed come as a shock to some viewers to see Billie – who celebrated her 25th birthday this month – writhing around in her underwear, and of course, in some scenes, doing what prostitutes do – having sex. But the young actress is more than aware of what she's letting herself in for.

Billie said: "I considered this job more than I considered anything before. It's such a different world to what I know. Obviously it's quite full on and it's relentless. It's not just one sex scene here and there, it's... endless!"

ALL CHANGE: From travelling the galaxy with Dr Who, Billie Piper plays a high-class prostitute in her latest role

Many people would happily admit that acting out such scenes in front of a room full of camera crew would make us blush, but Billie maintains she didn't get embarrassed.

"You talk endlessly about it and you choreograph it like a contemporary dance," she said.

As viewers will soon find out, Billie spends a lot of time in her skimpy, but she looks good, make no mistake. So is her super-toned body the result of hours and hours in the gym?

"No, not the gym. I don't like the gym at all, makes me want to kill myself. But I have been running outside quite a bit, and I'd just finished a play," she said.

Despite winning a Guardian newspaper award for Blog of the Year and publishing two books, there is still some doubt by sceptics as to whether Belle was a real person.

Billie, however, insists that she met the real Belle, who helped her to prepare for the role.

"She's sweet and she's interesting. She's very clever as well," Billie says.

As well as being impressed by the former call-girl – who has apparently now retired – Billie had a few questions of her own for Belle.

"I wanted to know when she was with a bloke, what their faces were like," she says.

Pardon?
"I wanted to know if they were bolshy and turned into egomaniacs or power-freaks," she added.

"Belle told me that it was quite the opposite. Men get really scared and vulnerable and nervous, worrying about if they are going to be exposed to the point where they can't perform. I didn't think it would be like that, so it was quite fascinating really."

LIVE AND LOUD

LOCAL TV ONLINE

MISSING FRIENDS: A non-profit-making, three-minute music video called Missing Friends/Amigos Perdidos, made by children, for children. Explanation: "We know it won't win an Oscar, but just the same we think it is beautiful because it's a film of our children capturing the innocence and joy of their childhood. What could be more precious? Sadly, thousands of children just like them disappear each and every year, and the names of Ben Needham, Yeremi Vargas and Madeleine McCann have been added to that growing list.

"None of us can afford to be indifferent. Evil flourishes when good people choose to do nothing. The reality is we are part of a community that is local, national and worldwide, especially where this cause is concerned.

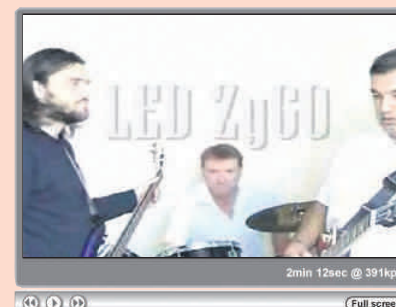

"We can all be more proactive and a little less reactive. Together, we can make a difference, but only if we try. This is the least we owe Ben, Yeremi and Madeleine, and every other missing child and tormented family that has suffered through this never-ending tragedy. Let's all protect the innocent."

SHAMEFUL BEHAVIOUR: Local rising rock band Shameful Behaviour perform So Fine at the now-lamented Ashford Rocks in April.

CRAZY TRAIN: Thanet classic rock covers band Crazy Train playing live at the Bradstow Mill in Broadstairs this month.

WANTED: LED ZyGO member Alan says: "We thought we'd get a band together, playing Led Zep. Only thing is, we don't have a singer yet."

SIX YEARS LOST: Band perform their song, The Sky is Empty, live at the Shrimpers Regatta on Gravesend Prom – on a rather wet and windy day.

MUSIC BY YERK: Enjoy the sounds of UK electronic artist Yerk, otherwise known as Mr Nick Burkinyoung.

PROPERTY NEWS

Exchange rate matters when buying overseas

PROPERTY investors looking to the overseas market could stand to lose more than £3,500, according to experts at the Property Investor Show.

At a time when the pound is strong against some of the world's leading currencies, second homebuyers and property investors should be looking to cash in on exchange rates when transferring money for the property purchase.

Instead, the investor's group claim many are losing money on this important transaction simply by using a high street bank rather than a foreign exchange specialist which offers a more competitive rate.

Mark O'Sullivan, head of trading at Currencies Direct: "Aside from a UK home, buying a property abroad is likely to be the most expensive purchase you will make and it is crucial to get the best deal on the exchange rate to ensure you don't lose out when transferring money overseas.

"Using a specialist rather than a bank could save thousands of pounds which can be spent on other initial costs. This figure doesn't even take into account the transfer fees that many banks charge, which would inflate the amount further."

Home owners' fears over interest rate hike

CONCERNS over mortgage rates have intensified this month, according to the latest survey.

Website propertyfinder.com's monthly survey uncovered reduced optimism when it comes to house prices across the market.

It is now expected that prices will rise at a rate of 3.9 per cent – roughly in line with wage growth. This represents a slower-than-expected hike in prices, which were forecast for a 5.1 per cent rise over the summer months.

Added to this is the fear that interest rates are set to get higher, meaning more cash outlay for mortgage payers.

Warren Bright, chief executive of propertyfinder.com, said: "Buyers and sellers still expect house prices to rise – just more slowly.

"The housing market has responded to higher base rates and will adjust further thanks to the credit squeeze in the wholesale markets.

"For new borrowers, especially those with poorer credit records, mortgages will be harder to come by.

"It seems likely the housing market will remain slow."

RISE AND FALL: Although August figures show an increase in sales and buyers, there are still concerns over the effect HIPs and interest rates will have on the housing market

Housing market is still clouded by uncertainty

AFTER a slowdown in July the house market is once again picking up pace as estate agents report a rise in sales and buyers looking to snap up a property.

The latest information from the National Association of Estate Agents (NAEA) revealed the upturn with the number of registered buyers, properties on estate agents' books and sales per agent all rising during August.

However, with uncertainty clouding the economic climate, the majority of these figures were still down on the same time last year.

According to the NAEA, the number of people looking to purchase a home increased slightly in August with agents reporting a rise of 3.8 per cent with an average of 326 buyers registered on their books in comparison to the 314 recorded in July.

■ BY ED HILL

While an increase in house hunters is typical for the time of year, this is the lowest reported August rise since 2003, as increasing interest rates and reduced house price inflation cause caution among consumers.

The number of houses for sale increased in August as NAEA members reported an average of 81 properties for sale during the month compared to the 45 properties reported the previous month. The number of sales reported increased in August, with an average of 12 houses sold per agent compared to the 10 properties sold per agent in July.

The number this time last year was 15. The NAEA blame recent economic movements and introduction of the HIPs legislation for the decrease.

Meanwhile, first-time buyers took a smaller share of the market this summer as their percentage share was reported at 9.7 per cent, compared with 13.4 per cent in August 2006.

This continuing waning in the market can be partly attributed to the turbulent interest rate rises that have led to the current insecurity for this sector.

What's more, it is taking longer to complete house moves – rising from 17 weeks in 2006 to 18.2 in 2007.

NAEA president, Stewart Lilly, said: "The latest figures indicate that a period of low house price inflation may well be on its way.

"However, the recent introduction of the second phase of HIPs is likely to cause more disruption and in particular prompt a 'wait and see' strategy from individuals who are unsure about the full impact of the legislation."

All the comforts of home, none of the worries

After working hard all your life, don't you think you deserve a little pampering? Wouldn't it be nice to enjoy the garden without having to lift a finger, and who wants to worry about all those little jobs that need doing around your home?

McCarthy & Stone may have the solution with their brand new purpose-built retirement development in Margate.

Joyce and her husband Frank had been living in a three bedroom detached bungalow before moving to Dickens Court.

Joyce said "Neither Frank nor I like gardening and in the bungalow we had so much stuff that we thought we'd better get rid of it and make a new start while we were still fit and healthy.

"As soon as we heard that McCarthy & Stone were building in Cliftonville, we were down to the sales office like a shot."

Peace of Mind

Freedom from security worries makes for a happier, more carefree retirement.

Shortly after moving in, Frank and Joyce went on a cruise to Norway with the peace of mind knowing that their flat would be safe whilst they were away.

Like all McCarthy & Stone developments, Dickens Court has a TV camera entry system at the main entrance and a house manager to keep an eye on things. Furthermore, each apartment is connected to a 24-hour personal emergency system.

Making new Friends

As Dickens Court has filled up with new people, Frank and Joyce have been enjoying the company of their fellow residents.

Frank said "It's great fun now that the social side of things has got going. We're both on the social committee so we find we don't have much time to laze about. Where we were living before we didn't really get to know our neighbours. In fact, we've made more friends since we've been here than we did in the six years we spent in the bungalow."

Dickens Court has been specially designed for people aged 60 and over who enjoy an independent lifestyle.

Other facilities at Dickens Court include a lift to all floors, a laundry room and a guest suite for visiting family and friends.

Dickens Court, Margate.

Apartments at Dickens Court are priced from £129,950.

Show Complex open daily from 10.30am to 5.00pm.

Last Opportunity to buy at award-winning address

Maple Cottages at Stedlyn Retreat

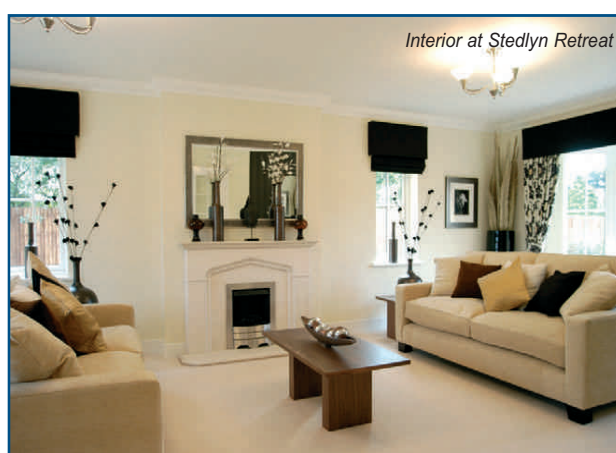

Pond at Stedlyn Retreat

With a commendation from the judges at the Mail on Sunday British Home Awards and the news that it is to be awarded the title of Best New Development by The UK Daily Mail Property Awards later this year, Stedlyn Retreat is clearly a prestigious address. Award-winning housebuilder Millwood Designer Homes now has just one property available to buy at this semi-rural idyll and discerning purchasers should come and see why.

Country charm fused with modern convenience...

The remaining property is an end of terrace mews 3 bedroom cottage, which forms part of the quaint Maple cottages and has the added convenience of a garage. The home blends seamlessly with the surrounding Kent countryside, due to its period style elevations, including reclaimed brickwork and tiles. Purchasers can enjoy the best of modern comforts too, as the interior of the home offers the ultimate in low maintenance living.

Ready to move into...

The home comes complete with fully fitted carpets, light fittings and a landscaped garden enabling you to move straight in.

A premium quality...

As with all Millwood Designer homes the specification is immaculate. The individually designed kitchen by James Theobald features a wealth of integrated appliances by Smeg, including a double oven, microwave, fridge/freezer and washer/dryer. Fitted wardrobes are included to two of the bedrooms and the master bedroom enjoys a sumptuous en-suite.

Take a closer look...

The home is priced at £279,950. To make an appointment to view, contact the Sales Department at Millwood Designer Homes on 01732 770991.

MOTORS NEWS

Renault customer to hit slopes after win

LUCKY prizewinner Sarah Thorne grabbed skis for her visit to Motorline Renault in Ashford.

Although there was a distinct lack of snow at the Hilton Road dealership, she was gearing up for a winter sports holiday courtesy of the motor group.

She won £350 of holiday vouchers in a summer draw held across Motorline's four Renault service centres: Maidstone, Canterbury, Ashford and Dover.

As a keen skier there was no doubt about how Sarah, from Tenterden, would use her windfall: "I'm delighted. I haven't won anything like this before. I'm planning to use the vouchers towards a skiing holiday next year."

Why green is being highlighted in white

WHITE is the new green, judging by the many white-painted eco-friendly concept cars now produced as CO2 emissions become as crucial as fuel consumption.

Volvo's C30 special (pictured) highlights the trend well, but Fiat's small car line-up makes it favourite to lead the environmental battle.

Group chief Luca di Meo said: "We aim to be the manufacturer with the lowest CO2 emissions in Europe – and want to do this the Fiat way, providing customers with everyday solutions to reduce the environmental impact of personal transportation."

Micra '2008' due for launch next month

NISSAN has revamped its distinctive Micra for 2008 models, launched in October.

Trim levels and colour specs have also been revised to harmonise with the bigger Note hatchback/MPV and hugely successful Qashqai.

Features such as an audible speed warning system and Bluetooth phone link are now standard on certain versions and all Micras will now have a jack socket so that MP3 players can be played through the car's sound system.

Prices are also largely unchanged, starting from £7,495.

IMPROVED LOOK: New Toyota Prius is easier on the eye compared to its 'wheelie-bin' predecessor, but we're still waiting for an environmentally friendly car that thrills without waking the nasty, dirty petrol engine.

So, within an hour you have been through rehab and instead of risking road rage you are waiting around like a highway hippie delivering the milk.

The brakes are clever too, because they recover what would be lost energy on a normal car and channel it back into the car's battery – good for stop-start town traffic.

But all this technology costs. The cheapest Prius is nearly £18,000 – Toyota's equivalent conventional family hatchback, the Auris, starts at around £12,000 – and Toyota is rumoured to be subsidising every Prius sold.

Greens and gadget fans apart, buyers may also be put off by the relatively untried technology – despite an impressive eight-year/100,000-mile warranty on the hybrid system itself.

The car is also 'extremely' automatic – you simply select forward or reverse and go from A to B – which makes it a bit dull to drive even though the car handles and rides well.

On the other hand, it is a practical car to live with; the hybrid powertrain and batteries do not impinge on the car's ability to function as a roomy family hatchback.

USED CAR ROUND-UP: OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

BEST-SELLING FAMILY HATCHBACKS

LOOKING for a car that does it all? Start shopping for a family hatchback; it seats five, can be crammed like a small van and represents a good balance of space, flexibility and economy... providing you don't go for the 'hot hatch' version. Family hatches dominate the UK top 10 – all three of our recommendations are regulars – and the end product needs to be good to compete at all against talented opposition. Market clout helps, of course, but this trio deserves to be there on merit too – check out the profiles below.

FORD FOCUS

BRITAIN'S favourite car. Or is it? Some say it's number one through Ford's formidable market share. Fair point, but the Focus is also great to drive, practical, well-made and blessed with good engines. For second-hand buyers there is a fantastic choice of power – including the rapid ST – trim levels and body styles: a smart saloon and estate plus a coupé convertible. The car's popularity and ordinary looks are a weakness though and reason enough for some buyers to look elsewhere.

VAUXHALL ASTRA

SUFFERS like the Focus from being a common sight, thanks to its lofty new car top 10 sales position. But nobody could accuse the Astra of being dreary looking; Renault Megane aside, it is the most sharply styled family hatchback on sale. Vauxhall has also differentiated between the three-door model, dubbed the Sport Hatch, and the five-door workhorse. There is a longer wheelbase estate too. Engine options, including impressive Fiat-derived diesels, are among the best around.

VW GOLF

IT costs extra to get into a Golf, signalling the power of a more premium bonnet badge. Highly-regarded diesels also keep used prices up, while the GTI hot hatch lends glamour to the whole range. Interior quality and ambience is top notch too and the driving experience is possibly best in class. That said, the Golf suffers from fairly dull styling and some buyers might be tempted by sexier and cheaper used rivals such as the Citroën C4 and Megane.

JOB OPPORTUNITIES AT DUNGENESS 'A'

A number of exciting opportunities have arisen at Dungeness 'A' Site since the Site completed 40 years of safe electricity generation and a successful shutdown at the end of December 2006. The Site now faces its biggest challenge as it enters into the Decommissioning phase to ensure a safe and secure future. This new phase of activity is creating opportunities for dedicated professionals with a passion for the environment to support our operations and project delivery.

Site Director's PA £21-28k

Vacancy No: DA/4442/07

Key duties include the provision of a confidential secretarial and administrative function for the Site Director, assisting with confidential mail, arranging meetings, accommodation and travel, minute taking, organising itineraries for visitors and helping to co-ordinate resources. Applicants should have experience in a secretarial role and hold an RSA II and III Typing qualification, Private Secretary's Certificate or an equivalent Secretarial qualification with knowledge and experience of Microsoft Word and Excel. Shorthand is essential.

Maintenance Technicians £21-28k

Vacancy No: DA/4446A/07 (Mechanical) DA/4446B/07 (Electrical)

Mechanical: responsible for the maintenance and repair of pumps, valves and heavy mechanical plant. Machining experience would be an advantage.

Electrical: responsible for the routine maintenance of transformers and associated MV/HV switchgear; repair of medium voltage AC and DC motors and associated control equipment. Applicants should have experience of fault finding and defect repair on a wide range of low/medium voltage control and alarm systems.

Applicants must have good experience within an Engineering environment, and possess a relevant engineering/ craft qualification to at least City & Guilds II or equivalent level. The applicant will be required to be physically fit as part of the normal duties may entail working in confined spaces, hot temperatures and at heights (e.g. 100ft).

Radiochemistry Assistant £21-28k

Vacancy No: DA/4421/07

Key duties include; providing specialist radiochemistry and analytical support, conducting routine radiochemical testing, identifying anomalies, identifying abnormal trends and performing radiological monitoring tasks. Applicants should have an understanding of chemical and radiochemical analytical and safe handling techniques, practical knowledge of legislative requirements and the dosimetry aspects of radiological protection, however training will be provided if necessary.

Lead Work Control Co-ordinator £34-45k

Vacancy No: DA/4436/07

Supporting the Head of Works Control you will develop and coordinate the execution of Station plans, monitor compliance with Site Licence requirements, Statutory Regulations, procedures and Safety Rules. You will be computer literate with a detailed knowledge of Planning and Work Control principles with at least two years experience in a maintenance or operational role ideally with an ONC/BTEC or equivalent in engineering or demonstrable knowledge and experience. Knowledge of Microsoft Projects and P3E is desirable although training would be provided, if necessary.

Assistant Engineer Defuelling

£36-47k to £42-55k (upon completion of training & including shift pay)

Vacancy No: DA/4426/07

This combines two roles namely Central Control Room (CCR) Operations and Plant/Fuel Route Operations working in one of five shift teams that operate the sites plant and equipment, 24 hours a day. Applicants should be educated to HNC/HND level (or equivalent) in an engineering discipline with experience of the operation and maintenance of plant and a broad knowledge of mechanical, electrical, control and instrument engineering. The roles involve providing direct control and supervision and may involve a high degree of investigative and fault finding activities. This role will require the applicant to be part of the Site Emergency Response Team in addition to their normal duties and will require a high degree of physical fitness, working in confined spaces, hot temperatures and at heights (e.g. 100ft).

Shift Defuelling Technician £27-36k (including shift pay)

Vacancy No: DA/4443/07

Working in one of five shift teams that operate the sites plant and equipment, 24 hours a day, the post holder will have the ability to solve operational problems and investigate plant faults. Experience of working in a heavy industrial or Process Manufacturing environment is essential. The successful candidate will be highly motivated and will utilise existing skills in the areas of Operations, Maintenance and Radiological Protection to work on the Fuel Route, reactor support systems and a wide range of auxiliary plant. This role will require the applicant to be part of the site Emergency Response Team in addition to their normal duties and will require a high degree of physical fitness, working in confined spaces, hot temperatures and at heights (e.g. 100ft).

Benefits include competitive salary, generous holiday entitlement, employee bonus scheme, four day 37 hour working week (excluding Shift workers) and pension scheme.

For an application pack please contact the Personnel Office quoting the relevant reference number on 01797 343599 or by email to claire.e.morris@magnoxsouthsites.com. (8 or 10 hour shifts. Some weekend and Bank Holiday work will be required)

Based: Various Ambulance Stations in Kent or Sussex and limited vacancies in Surrey

South East Coast Ambulance Service is an innovative and forward-looking Trust, which actively promotes the ambulance service as an integral part of the pre-hospital care pathway.

Ambulance Care Assistants (ACA's) are responsible for the medical welfare of their patients, providing support and assistance to those in need and ensuring that all patients are transported safely and in comfort both throughout the journey and during transfer to and from the ambulance.

You will spend much of your time out on the road, and duties may involve heavy lifting, bending and carrying when transferring patients, and successful candidates will have to undertake considerable training in basic life support skills, oxygen therapy, automated defibrillators, manual handling, first aid and driving skills.

We are looking to increase our dedicated team of professionals to ensure that the service runs smoothly and patients receive the best possible level of care.

As a minimum,

- Stable employment and attendance record
- English and Maths GCSE's at Grade C or above (or equivalent),
- Good general eyesight to (PCV) licence standards
- Full, current Driving Licence, held for at least 1 year, with no more than 3 penalty points.
- If you acquired your licence after January 1997 you must be willing to obtain Part C1 on your licence prior to employment.
- Capable of passing our pre-entry written tests and driving assessment
- Physically fit and able to pass an Occupational Specific Fitness Test and Occupational Medical to PCV standards

You must be able to demonstrate good communication and team working skills and possess a genuine desire to serve the community through either your working, or spare time activities.

Our remuneration package includes a generous annual leave entitlement and membership of the NHS Occupational Pension Scheme. The Trust also provides Listeners Network, Counselling and Occupational Health Services as an on going commitment to the well being and welfare of our staff.

For a recruitment pack please contact our 24-hour recruitment line on 01737 363529 or email: recruitment@secamb.nhs.uk

Closing date: Friday, 5th October 2007.

The Trust is committed to being recognised as a model employer in respect of equalities and diversity and to our workforce at all levels reflecting the communities we serve. Central to this aim is a desire to identify and deal with any barriers that may exist in the way staff are attracted, recruited, retained, motivated and developed. We guarantee interview to candidates with disability who meet the minimum criteria specified.

Canterbury College is an equal opportunity employer

KCA (UK) is an expanding and vibrant organisation providing a wide range of high quality and innovative specialist services. Founded in 1975 and currently employing over 300 paid and unpaid staff, it has an annual income of £11 million and is becoming established as one of the leading service providers in the South East Region.

REF: 446 - DRUG INTERVENTION PROGRAMME WORKER MAIDSTONE Salary £17,985 - £25,437 (SCP 21 - 32) - 37 hours per week Essential Car User Allowance

In this role you will contribute to the provision of the Kent Drug Intervention Programme (DIP) that aims to reduce drug-related crime by engaging with offenders through all stages of the criminal justice system. You will take active steps to contact people who have been referred to KCA by Police, Probation or Prison based services in order to assess for treatment services relevant to their individual needs and address problems of social exclusion. You will work in collaboration with specialist Prison Drug Services, Prison and Community Probation staff and Police staff to deliver co-ordinated and planned support packages. To meet the challenges of this role you should have previous employment that includes knowledge of working within the criminal justice system and of working with vulnerable people.

This post is subject to Criminal Records Bureau check at enhanced level and Prison Service security clearance.

REF: 447 - DAY PROGRAMME WORKER - DOVER REF: 448 - DAY PROGRAMME WORKER - WEST KENT £20,235 - £24,708 (SCP 25-31) 37 hours per week) Casual Car User Allowance

You will be part of a community team, providing a range of services for people with drug and alcohol problems. Working as part of the day programme team, you will be required to take a leading role in the planning and delivery of a structured holistic programme, which includes group work, assessment and key working, skills training and complementary therapies. You will need a relevant qualification and group work experience, preferably in a drug and alcohol day programme or residential setting.

EVENTS MANAGER

Based at Home or at Demelza Sittingbourne, with established annual events in place, this role will primarily manage a small, hardworking team including motivated volunteers, maximise the potential income and PR of existing events whilst developing and securing new opportunities and supporting external supporter events. Successful applicants will have:

- Professional experience in events at corporate and community levels
- Proven people management skills
- Successful track record in researching, developing and implementing successful high profile events
- Creative and innovative approach combined with an "eye for detail"
- Excellent communication and IT skills

AREA FUNDRAISING MANAGERS

in South London, Central London and East Kent

Based from home, working within one of the above areas, you will nurture the support of the local community, recruit and manage volunteers and help to implement initiatives to provide income and profile for our work across all sections of the population. You must demonstrate:

- Previous professional fundraising experience or a sales or marketing background
- Excellent verbal, written and IT communication/presentation skills to deliver a compelling case
- Excellent time and project management skills
- Knowledge of the local work area

Salary: Competitive with car, phone and broadband access from home. You must be able to work to deadlines and challenging targets for all posts.

All roles are 37 hours per week, with extensive travel across the region. Managing your own time to best effect and utilising volunteer input, with weekend and evening working, is essential.

Head of Faculty - Science & Humanities

37 hrs per week, salary from £40,622 per annum Post Ref: 06/103/KOS
Interview 18/10/07

We are seeking individuals of the highest calibre to help achieve our goal of being one of the best FE College by 2010.

You will be responsible for the operational delivery of the strategic plan within your Faculty, and will ensure a quality provision and suitable curriculum development to aid the learner experience. You will also play a key role in contributing to the development of the College's strategic & development plans, and will lead and inspire a team of Section Managers. As a College we are committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of both young people and vulnerable adults, and the promotion of this will form an integral part of your role.

You will have significant experience in education leadership and people management, and will have the leadership skills to set the highest possible standards, both within your Faculty and throughout the College. In return, we will offer you the rewards and support you would expect at such a senior level.

Section Manager Catering Services

37 hours per week, salary £32,648 per annum Post ref: 07/82/KOS
Interview 19/10/07

This is an exciting opportunity which combines both a Management role and teaching. If you have experience in line management working within Catering Services and are keen to shape the future of learners this could be the job for you. Canterbury College has invested heavily in this area and is now looking for someone with the drive and enthusiasm to provide leadership and management of the curriculum team. In this role you will be responsible for the operational delivery of the strategic plan, quality of provision and curriculum development. If you feel you can meet this challenge then please request an application form.

Section Manager Independent Living & Leisure Skills

SALARY:
Negotiable + car allowance, relocation package and final salary pension scheme
COMPANY:
Dover Harbour Board
Europe's busiest and most successful ferry port, we handle 15 million passengers, 3 million tourist vehicles and 2 million freight vehicles a year. With these figures set to increase, we are investing around £300m in a new ferry terminal and associated infrastructure including a marina, property development and traffic regulation. With the momentum already building there's never been a more exciting time to join our team. You'll be heavily involved in all aspects of construction, from feasibility, design and detailing through to Project Management for new works and the maintenance of existing installations. Our forward workload is hugely varied, so you'll be working not only on maritime-related projects, but also civil engineering and building schemes. To make an impact, you'll need to be a widely experienced Civil Engineer (Chartered or Incorporated) or a graduate with some experience, working towards corporate membership of the Institution of Civil Engineers. You'll be given full training and support to gain this and when achieved, this will open up a clearly defined career path. A background in project management and delivery will prove invaluable, as will experience within a port or maritime environment. We are also interested in hearing from new graduates for future engineering opportunities.

NURSING, MEDICINE, CARE WORK

JOB TITLE:
Ambulance Care Assistant
LOCATION:
Kent
SALARY:
£14,037 - £16,799
COMPANY:
South Coast Ambulance Service NHS Trust
(6 or 10 hour shifts. Some weekend and Bank Holiday work will be required) Based: Various Ambulance Stations in Kent or Sussex and limited vacancies in Surrey. South East Coast Ambulance Service is an innovative and forward looking Trust, which actively promotes the ambulance service as an integral part of the pre-hospital care pathway. Ambulance Care Assistants (ACA's) are responsible for the medical welfare of their patients, providing support and assistance to those in need and ensuring that all patients are transported safely and in comfort both throughout the journey and during transfer to and from the ambulance. You will spend much of your time out on the road, and duties may involve heavy lifting, bending and carrying when transferring patients, and successful candidates will have to undertake considerable training in basic life support skills, oxygen therapy, automated defibrillators, manual handling, first aid and driving skills. We are looking to increase our dedicated team of professionals to ensure that the service runs smoothly and patients receive the best possible level of care. As a minimum, • Stable employment and attendance record • English and Maths GCSE's at Grade C or above (or equivalent), • Good general eyesight to (PCV) licence standards • Full, current Driving Licence, held for at least 1 year, with no more than 3 penalty points. • If you acquired your licence after January 1997 you must be willing to obtain Part C1 on your licence prior to employment. • Capable of passing our pre-entry written tests and driving assessment • Physically fit and able to pass an Occupational Specific Fitness Test and Occupational Medical to PCV standards. You must be able to demonstrate good communication and team working skills and possess a genuine desire to serve the community through either your working, or spare time activities. Our remuneration package includes a generous annual leave entitlement and membership of the NHS Occupational Pension Scheme. The Trust also provides Listeners Network, Counselling and Occupational Health Services as an on going commitment to the well being and welfare of our staff. The Trust is committed to being recognised as a model employer in respect of equalities and diversity and to our workforce at all levels reflecting the communities we serve. Central to this aim is a desire to identify and deal with any barriers that may exist in the way staff are attracted, recruited, retained, motivated and developed. We guarantee interview to candidates with disability who meet the minimum criteria specified. An Equal Opportunities Employer.

PRINT, PACKAGING, DISTRIBUTION

JOB TITLE:
Estimator
LOCATION:
Broadstairs
SALARY:
Negotiable depending on experience
COMPANY:
East Kent Cartons
An exciting opportunity has arisen for a full time estimator within our expanding company. This role involves liaising with customers and calculating quotes. It is therefore vital to be able to read CAD drawings and be proficient in the use of Microsoft Excel and emails. This is a fast moving environment and you will be able to work under pressure whilst being accurate and showing attention to detail. The job would ideally suit someone with experience within the print industry (preferably carton manufacturing). CAD experience would be an advantage.

It's not impossible to change someone's attitude as long as you're prepared to work at it – and our staff always are. So whether you've done a similar job before or not, the most important thing is that you can empathise with young people to gradually bring out the best in them. It's a role that requires intelligence and common sense, plus the knowledge that sometimes you have to earn respect and can't just demand it. Bring us all that, and we'll train you for a career that will see you turn young lives around. Go to www.workwithyoungpeople.co.uk for more details and to apply.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

'Outdated family doc' a hazard to firms' health

EMPLOYEES and businesses are being unnecessarily burdened by the 'outdated family doctor service', the CBI claims.

CBI South East regional director, Malcolm Hyde, said: "Official figures show 10 million adults in England alone cannot book an appointment with a GP more than 48 hours in advance. It's time there was real and fundamental reform with the needs of the patient coming first."

"A healthy workforce is as important to employers as a workforce with the skills needed to compete. An employee who isn't there because they have to wait around in a GP's surgery is a lost order or an unanswered phone call."

Government must fight EU's agency directive

FLEXIBLE working for thousands of people across the county could be in jeopardy, despite being increasingly offered by businesses – according to the latest research from the Confederation of British Industry.

The CBI has warned the Government it must stand firm against renewed EU and union pressure to resurrect the draft Agency Workers Directive; which puts agency workers on an equal footing with permanent staff after just six weeks.

The survey, by the CBI, the UK's biggest employers' organisation and the recruitment specialists Pertemps, suggests up to 250,000 placements across the country would be jeopardised if the directive were to be adopted.

Diva-Biz site is offering something for the lady

A NEW video-based website designed for the busy female executive has been launched.

The Diva-Biz site offers a web-based mentoring and leadership forum for professional women, where leading figures talk candidly about their own experiences.

Launch interviews include: Rachel Bridge, of the Sunday Times; Sarah Deaves, CEO, Coutts Bank and Danielle Lux, managing director of Celador Productions.

The site has been set up by Fiona Price who set up the first company in the UK to provide financial advice for women.

THINKING PROCESS: With more and more new employment regulations being put on small businesses it is good practise to take early action to insure there is little disruption

Prepare now ahead of wage and holiday hike

EMPLOYERS need to get to grips now with upcoming changes to employment regulations, a business support agency has warned.

As of October 1, there will be an increase in the statutory holiday entitlement to 4.8 weeks (24 days if you work a five-day week) and a rise in the minimum wage.

The adult rate, for workers aged 22 and over, will increase to £5.52 an hour.

And Business Link says local firms should be sure to have the right processes in place to minimise disruption to their operation.

The quarterly South East Business Monitor – a quarterly survey of 1,800 of the region's small-and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) – found recent changes to regulations such as the smoking ban, paternity and maternity rights, and age discrimination are perceived by business owners to have had little impact on their companies.

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

Although almost one third (32 per cent) of Kent companies identify red tape as a constraint on their business, the majority have a good understanding of the latest regulations.

Of the SMEs involved in the survey, introducing a smoke-free workplace (84 per cent), age discrimination (82 per cent) and maternity and paternity rights (72 per cent) legislation said there was no impact on their business.

Business Link's Linda Bennett said: "It seems that people running businesses have a 'can do attitude' and simply get on with the day-to-day running of their companies.

"Businesses are generally more affected by the fear of red tape than the actual implications of new regulations.

"Understanding new legislation is a vital part of coping with the changes that you may need to make to your business. Getting to grips with regulations can seem daunting at first, but we are able to advise on how to stay within the law. Taking early action can mean there is very little impact on your business.

"It can be difficult to find the time, particularly for small businesses, to keep up with changing legislation and take the necessary action."

Business Link has drawn up a practical guide to explaining the legal responsibilities and how best to prepare.

Last gasp City salvage win

THREE tries in the last six minutes turned a possible defeat into a 29-18 victory over Rosslyn Park on Saturday for Canterbury Rugby Club.

City opened the scoring in the first half through a Wessels Wolmarans try to give them the lead at the break.

Home side Rosslyn fought back in the second half and scored two quick tries to put them into the lead.

Canterbury were staring defeat in the face when winger Mike Melford broke through the defence twice and full back Gert De Kock crossed the line in the last six minutes to completely turn the tie around.

Winning run is over after draw

CANTERBURY City FC couldn't keep their 100 per cent record with a 1-1 draw against APM Mears FC on Saturday.

City took the lead on 20 minutes against the run of play when they were awarded a penalty.

Wayne Fittall stepped up to take it and calmly slotted the ball into the net securing his tenth goal of the season.

APM caused problems for City with their two lively strikers but it was Canterbury who could have extended the lead when Dan Bonneywell's strike hit the crossbar.

In the second half City had another two chances but the woodwork prevented the ball hitting the net.

However, APM equalised in the dying minutes of the game as they stabbed the ball home from a goal mouth scramble.

Manager Dave Fairclough said: "I am pleased as APM could have beaten us and we are still joint top in the league."

WINNER: Sarah Kerly's late goal gave her team victory

Ladies leave it late to beat league newbies

A LATE goal from Sarah Kerly sealed the win for Canterbury as they began their season with a morale-boosting away win in Manchester.

Captain Mel Clewlow was unavailable for the game and watched from the sidelines as a new-look Canterbury side struggled to kill off the home side. Despite seeing her side lose the lead twice Clewlow, who has taken on some coaching duties, was happy with the result.

She said: "The team defended pretty well and we have walked away with three points. Last season our away form let us down so we are pleased."

"I don't think we played very well in the first half. It is their first season in the Premier League so we did not know what to expect – in a way they did not have anything to lose."

"They have obviously been training very hard and caused us quite a few problems."

In a scrappy opening period both sides struggled to settle. The midfielders worked hard but made little impression early on as the game swung from end to end.

The visitors took the lead with a penalty corner routine from the training ground. The ball was fired goalwards and Hayley Brown dived full-length to deflect it into the net.

Many would have expected Canterbury to increase their lead, but the Premier League newcomers hit back.

A stray pass in midfield was pounced upon by the home side, and they drew level thanks to their experienced forward Cath Linaker.

Clewlow said: "I hoped we would progress after we scored but they were a spirited bunch who passed the ball around nicely."

"Cath is of the old school-type of forward and she doesn't need too much space to get a shot away."

The visitors came out firing at the start of the second half, and dominated the opening 10 minutes with Natasha Brennan restoring the advantage.

Once more the hosts responded, and a second goal from Linaker drew the sides level again.

As the game looked to be heading for a stalemate, Canterbury started an attack with a quick free hit that ended with Kerly lifting the ball over the keeper for the winner with just four minutes remaining.

Canterbury fielded an unfamiliar line-up with the squad's England players unavailable for much of the season due to Olympic preparations, but Clewlow was content with their first performance.

She said: "We were unsure what would happen because we have got a really young team and this was the first opportunity they all had to play together, but we came out with the win which is what counts."

The side have another away fixture on Saturday when they face Clifton. Both Clewlow and Cathy Gilliat-Smith will be available for the game after finishing their enforced rest periods after international commitments.

Town hammered as coach sets mid-table target

OPTIMISTIC: Town boss Marc Seager

WHITSTABLE Town crashed to a 4-0 defeat at home to promotion-chasing Tooting & Mitcham on Saturday.

Town were 2-0 down inside five minutes against an unbeaten Tooting side that went second in the Ryman Division one South with the away win.

They made the game safe with a third just after half-time and scored a fourth in injury time to rub salt in the wound.

Despite the defeat, manager Marc Seager has been satisfied with the start to the season and has set his sights on a top half finish by the end of the season for the Ryman newcomers.

FOOTBALL

Whitstable Town 0 Tooting & Mitcham 4

He said: "Forget the shambles at Thamesmead in the FA Cup I'm pleased with the start to our season."

"Prior to Saturday, we've lost a couple of games to two of the top four sides in the division but they were both close defeats so that shows we can hold our own."

"We are an inexperienced team operating on a very small budget so what we've achieved so far is really great."

"Teams like Horsham and Eastbourne are on our sort of level and from matches against them we have four points from six."

Seager said he was proud of his players in the first month of the season, particularly as few of them are used to the standard.

"Only three of them have any experience of playing at this level but the only way they are going to get more experience is by keeping playing."

"There are still a lot of points to play for in the season and our aim is still to be a Ryman's side at the end of the season."

"A top half finish would be a really great achievement."

Vase dreams over as Bay get bashed

FOOTBALL

Herne Bay 1
Colliers Wood United 4

HERNE Bay's long unbeaten run came to an end as Colliers Wood United dumped them out of the FA Vase at Winch's Field.

Bay produced their worst performance of the season so far and only wasteful finishing from the visitors kept the scoreline down.

The warning signs were there straight from the start when Woods' lightning quick Kris Chin ran straight through the back line only to drag his shot well wide of Jack Delo in the Bay goal.

The visitors took control of the game with two goals in two minutes just after the half hour mark.

First the lively Hinga Amara raced through the defence to slide the ball wide of Delo and then Mark Royal doubled the score by smashing the ball home from close range.

Bay's last chance to get back in the game came through substitute Robert Lawrence, whose shot was blocked by keeper Ed Cornwell. The visitors punished the miss by making it 3-0 with the next attack as Ryan Hughes was left unmarked to score from six yards out.

Five minutes later the game was over when a solo run from Chin found Amara at the near post for his second of the match.

A goal from Aaron Firth in the dying minutes was the only consolation for the home fans.

Colliers Wood fully deserved their victory but to make matters worse for Bay substitute Dave Ward was sent off after a bad tackle and dissent.

Bay will hope the performance was a one-off and they are vastly improved this Saturday when they get back to league action with a game against Lordswood.

United pull plum tie in Euro adventure

HERNE Bay United will play one of the world's biggest sports clubs when they begin their European League campaign next month.

The draw made in Madrid last week put the amateur English champions in Pool B alongside Spanish side Club Pati Vic, Hockey Club Prato from Italy and Portuguese giants Club FC Porto.

Player/coach Phil McVey was delighted with the prospect of competing against some of Europe's best sides.

He said: "It was the best draw for us, we are all very excited about it because Porto are one of the top three roller hockey teams in the world."

Herne Bay begin the group stage with the glamorous trip to Portugal on October 20.

The other teams in Herne Bay's pool are professional outfits, and McVey knows it will be tough to qualify for the semi finals.

He said: "We are going to have to play at the top of our game and we need the other teams, especially Porto, to have an off day.

ROLLER HOCKEY

"Pati Vic are another top quality side, we have played them before and it is a great place to play."

Herne Bay last made it to the final stages of the European League a decade ago when they played Barcelona. Their campaign is usually ended in the qualifying rounds, but this year a change of format means they go straight into the group stages.

Despite the odds stacked against Herne Bay, their coach expects them to be competitive.

McVey said: "Realistically we need three wins and a draw to stand a chance of making the semi finals but it is not beyond us."

The side's first game at the Pier Pavillion is against Pati Vic on November 17.

SPORT IN BRIEF

Lillis prepares his troops for tough FA Cup clash

HERNE Bay will look for a spot of giant-killing in this weekend's FA Cup second qualifying round match.

They face Blue Square South side Hayes & Yeading United on Saturday.

Bay booked their place in the draw after a 1-0 win against Sevenoaks Town.

United are yet to win at home this season and a win for Bay would be Jason Lillis' biggest in his managerial career.

Lillis said: "We have nothing to lose and as long as they play well I will be happy."

Crusade is underway for Kent Challenge Cup

THE Kent Crusaders play their first competitive game of the season with a National Cup first round tie at home on Saturday.

The Canterbury-based basketball side will be up against National League newcomers Sevenoaks Suns.

The game will be the first Kent Challenge Cup between Kent's two men's national league representatives.

With the Solent Stars pulling out of the league, a free pass into the third round is up for grabs.

Cameras set to capture Twenty20 finals day

CANTERBURY'S St Lawrence Ground will be hosting the Northgear Twenty20 grand finals.

The finale sees the best four amateur club sides in the Twenty20 Premier League battle it out to claim £5,000 of prize money.

The showcase event will consist of three games between the best four teams in the competition.

The finals will commence at 9am this Sunday and the matches will be live on Sky Sports. Tickets info visit www.kent-ccc.co.uk.

Duo return as Blues look for first win of season

WHITSTABLE Rugby Club will be looking to record their first win of the season when they face Horsham at home this weekend.

Whitstable were unlucky to lose their opening fixture to Bromley as they were without first-choice hooker Neil Wakefield.

However, captain Dave Lemon and Steve Mullins both took particularly heavy knocks and there are fears they could be out for at least a couple of weeks.

The Blues should be strengthened by the return of Chris Dengate and Neil Wakefield.
